COULD YOU BE A COMMUNITY CHAMPION?

Nottingham Community Champions

We're looking for volunteers from across the city who can help to shape this new network of Community Champions – people who really understand how their local communities work and what is important to them.

You don't need any special skills or experience to be a Community Champion – we'll make sure you get all the training and support you need.

Working in your local community, you will signpost people to advice and support on health issues – as well as promote ways to improve wellbeing.

Volunteers will be supported by staff at Nottingham Community and Voluntary Service and a Programme Manager based at Nottingham City Council.

What's the Role of a Community Champion?

‣ Support the Covid vaccination programme – engaging with the community to dispel myths, identify concerns and provide information.

‣ Share health information with your community, your family and friends, local groups, parents, and carers.

‣ Talk to people about your role and encourage others to sign up to be a Community Champion.

‣ Attend regular online meetings to keep up to date with the latest information and guidance.

‣ Take part in promotional activities, such as events, giving out leaflets putting posters in shops, restaurants, pubs, notice boards or community spaces and sharing posts on social media.

" This is a great opportunity for the city – you can make a huge difference to people's lives in your community. As a Champion, you will be a key point of contact for community members, signposting to healthcare services and ways to help with issues they might be facing that make it harder to live well.

– Councillor Adele Williams, Portfolio holder for Adults and Health
