

TB, BCG vaccine and your baby

BCG vaccine is given to those babies who are likely to come into contact with someone with tuberculosis (TB).

This includes babies who live in an area with high rates of TB or babies with parents or grandparents from a country with high rates of TB.

Find out more from your midwife, health visitor, GP or pharmacist

i mmunisation
the safest way to protect your child

