

Public Health Privacy Notice

Public health encompasses everything from national smoking and alcohol policies, the management of epidemics such as flu, the control of large-scale infections such as TB and Hepatitis B to local outbreaks of food poisoning or Measles. Public Health England (PHE) monitors the numbers of certain infections that occur in healthcare settings through routine surveillance programmes and advises on how to prevent and control infection in establishments such as hospitals, care homes and schools.

In order to allow PHE to carry out accurate monitoring of infections, it may rely on information held by the Practice with regards to Healthcare Acquired Infections (HCAs).

This will necessarily mean the subjects personal and health information being shared with the Public Health organisations.

Some of the relevant legislation includes:

Health Protection (Notification) Regulations 2010 (SI 2010/659)
Health Protection (Local Authority Powers) Regulations 2010 (SI 2010/657)
