

FEES FOR NON-NHS SERVICES

All general medical services are free to registered National Health patients, including temporary residents in the practice area, and emergencies who present at the surgery.

Some certificates and examinations are not covered under general medical provisions, and a fee may be charged for these along guidelines set down by the BMA. A list of such is set out below, together with the current fee. If you are unsure if a certificate or examination requires payment, please ask at the reception desk. If you require a medical examination for any of the certificates, please tell the receptionist, as these examinations may be lengthy and not suitable for a normal appointment in the surgery time. You will be contacted and given an appointment at a different time of the day.
